

a tent X zine

The Ark of experience

Everywhere around the tent are memorials with their master narratives. But the tent is the perfect time capsule from which to see history through the lens of human experience. We can see clearly the naked process of how subjective experience in one particular historical moment creates objective reality for another by confronting the systems of power on their own site.

The Ark of experience

